Notes:

1. A program designed to acquaint students with human diversity, anthropology offers a broad approach to the study of people including the prehistoric, biological, and cultural perspectives. Because of its wide coverage, anthropology provides a versatile background, which can serve as a solid foundation not only for transfer students in anthropology but for many fields and vocations.
2. Students planning for a career in anthropology will need to earn at least a Bachelor's degree. Therefore, students are strongly encouraged to meet with a counselor about transfer requirements (IGETC/CSU certification) early in their program. Anthropology students should also meet with the anthropology faculty about course/program offerings as soon as possible once the major has been declared in order to complete the program in a timely manner.

3. Some of the above courses may have prerequisites. See the catalog or schedule of classes.
4. The Associate Degree requires completion of the major (18 units) with a "C" or better grade in each course plus the completion of the General Associate Degree requirements – basic competencies, physical education/Dance, and lifetime physical and mental wellness – and General Education requirements for a total of 60 semesters units' minimum with a 2.0 or better GPA
5. *ANTHRO 3 may be required by University of California campuses for transfer in Anthropology.
